

Infovox iVox 2.0

Getting Started Guide

Introduction:

Listen to what your Mac has to say. Infovox iVox is the voice that enables your Mac to speak. Infovox iVox is a high-quality multilingual text-to-speech converter that can be used to add vocal output to applications compatible with Apple Speech Manager.

How to Use Infovox iVox:

The Infovox iVox application is used to activate and to inspect the voices installed. While using the voices, the Infovox iVox application does not need to be running. It only needs to be used for adding and removing licenses. You can select one of the Infovox iVox voices as your default system voice in the Text to Speech tab of the System Preferences' Speech pane. The Infovox iVox voices can also be used with the Apple's screen reader, VoiceOver, for people with low vision.

How to Receive Infovox iVox:

Infovox iVox can be downloaded from the Origin Instruments website at: www.orin.com or you can order the software to be delivered to you via DVD.

How to Install Infovox iVox:

Infovox iVox is distributed as a Disk Image (a file with extension .dmg) or on a DVD. In order to install Infovox iVox, mount the disk image or the DVD and run the Infovox iVox installer by double-clicking on the file Infovox_iVox_mpkg. The installer will launch and guide you through the installation.

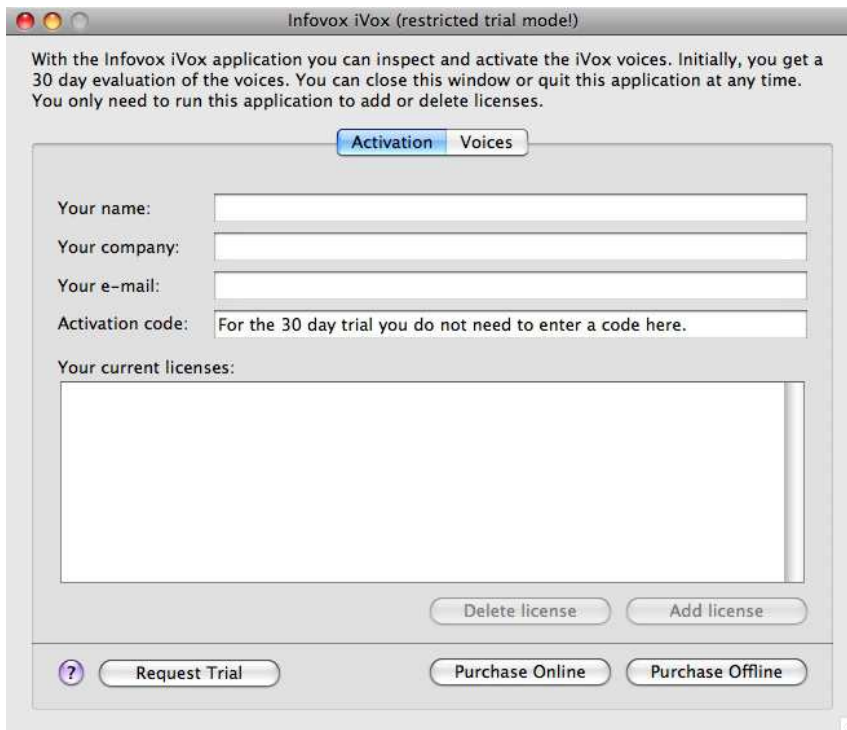

Important Note: After installation, Infovox iVox runs automatically in "trial mode" for 30 days. To remove the time limit you have to activate your license.

How to Activate Your Infovox iVox License:

Infovox iVox installs in a “trial mode” expiring after 30 days. Upon expiration the use of the Infovox iVox voices will be restricted. To remove the restrictions, you will need to “activate” your Infovox iVox license using the Activation Code provide to you with your purchase information.

To activate your license and remove the trial limitation, select “Activation” under the Infovox iVox pull-down menu. Enter your name, company name (if applicable), email address and activation code you received upon purchase. Select “Add License”.

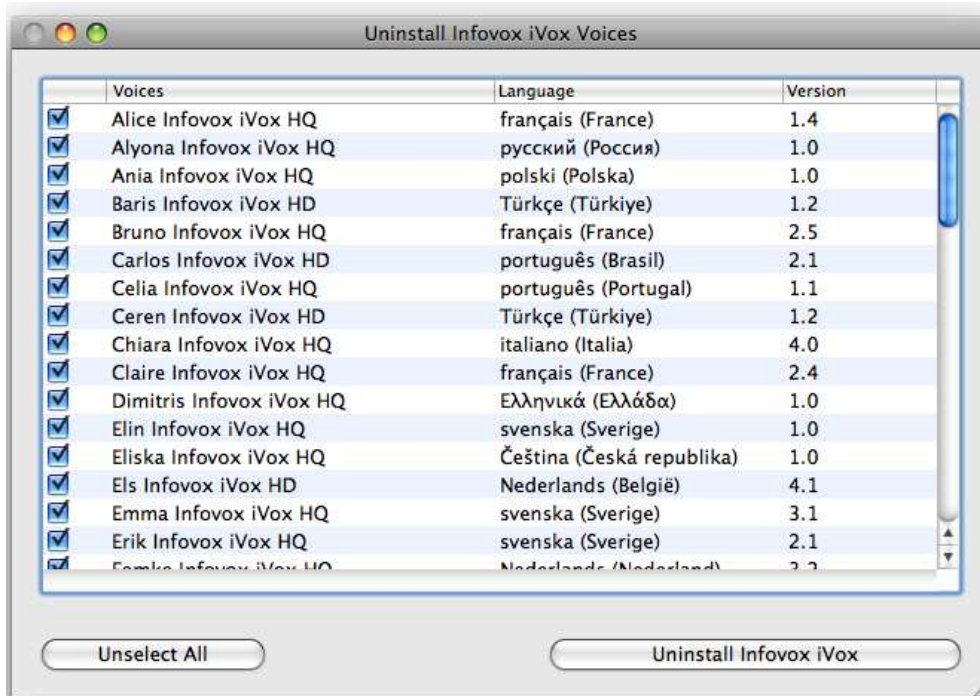

Important Note: Remember to store your activation code and user information in a safe place in case you need to reinstall the software on a future occasion.

How to Uninstall Infovox iVox:

In order to uninstall Infovox iVox, you need to run the uninstallation program, “Infovox iVox Uninstaller”. It is necessary to have administrator privileges for the uninstallation to be successful. You start the Uninstaller from the Infovox iVox application. Open Infovox iVox from the Application folder in Finder. Go to the menu “Infovox iVox” and select the menu item, “Uninstall”. The Uninstaller will launch asking you for proper login information.

Correct login will start the uninstallation program. First a dialog box will appear displaying the installed Infovox iVox voices. (See Sample)

All installed voices are selected and if you wish to uninstall Infovox iVox completely click the button, “Uninstall Infovox iVox”. It will remove the software from your computer.

However, if you wish to uninstall only particular voices, but not the complete Infovox iVox software, then click the button, “Unselect All”, and select only the voices you wish to uninstall. The voices you wish to uninstall are selected by checking the check box left to the voice name. Continue the uninstallation procedure by clicking the “Uninstall Infovox iVox” button.

Once the uninstallation is finished, a message box pops up confirming a successful uninstallation. Clicking the OK button of this message box will quit Infovox iVox Uninstaller.
